LION '76

1776

As I announced at Commencement my last official act as President was to hand you your diplomas and congratulate each one of you individually. As Interim President my year was highlighted by the many students I had the privilege of working with and knowing. My only regret is not getting to know more of you. The greatest satisfaction any President can derive from his work is to see his students develop and mature into competent and responsible citizens. It more than compensates him for all the problems and frustrations. In this respect I was most fortunate because this year's senior class was one of the best.

Though I spent many happy years at Grahm, some of the happiest years of my life, I look forward to my retirement as the beginning of a new phase of creative endeavor. No matter where I go, however, no matter what I do, my heart as well as my name will remain at Grahm.

In bidding you farewell, I wish for each of you a lifetime of fulfillment and happiness.

Milton Grahm

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

The 1975-76 school year has been quite an adventure for this year's LION. The year began with no yearbook editor, no yearbook advisor, no yearbook staff, and no yearbook room. But through struggle after struggle a small group organized a staff and ultimately managed to publish this book. Something we can be very proud of.

My only regret stemming from my involvement with the yearbook is that more members of the Grahm community didn't get involved. Now as you all look back I hope that many more of you can see the value of active involvement even in day to day life and will put all that you've learned in the past two years to meaningful use in the future.

Many special thanks to our advisor, Ginny MacLean, and the handful of people who stuck with the LION.

Sincerely,

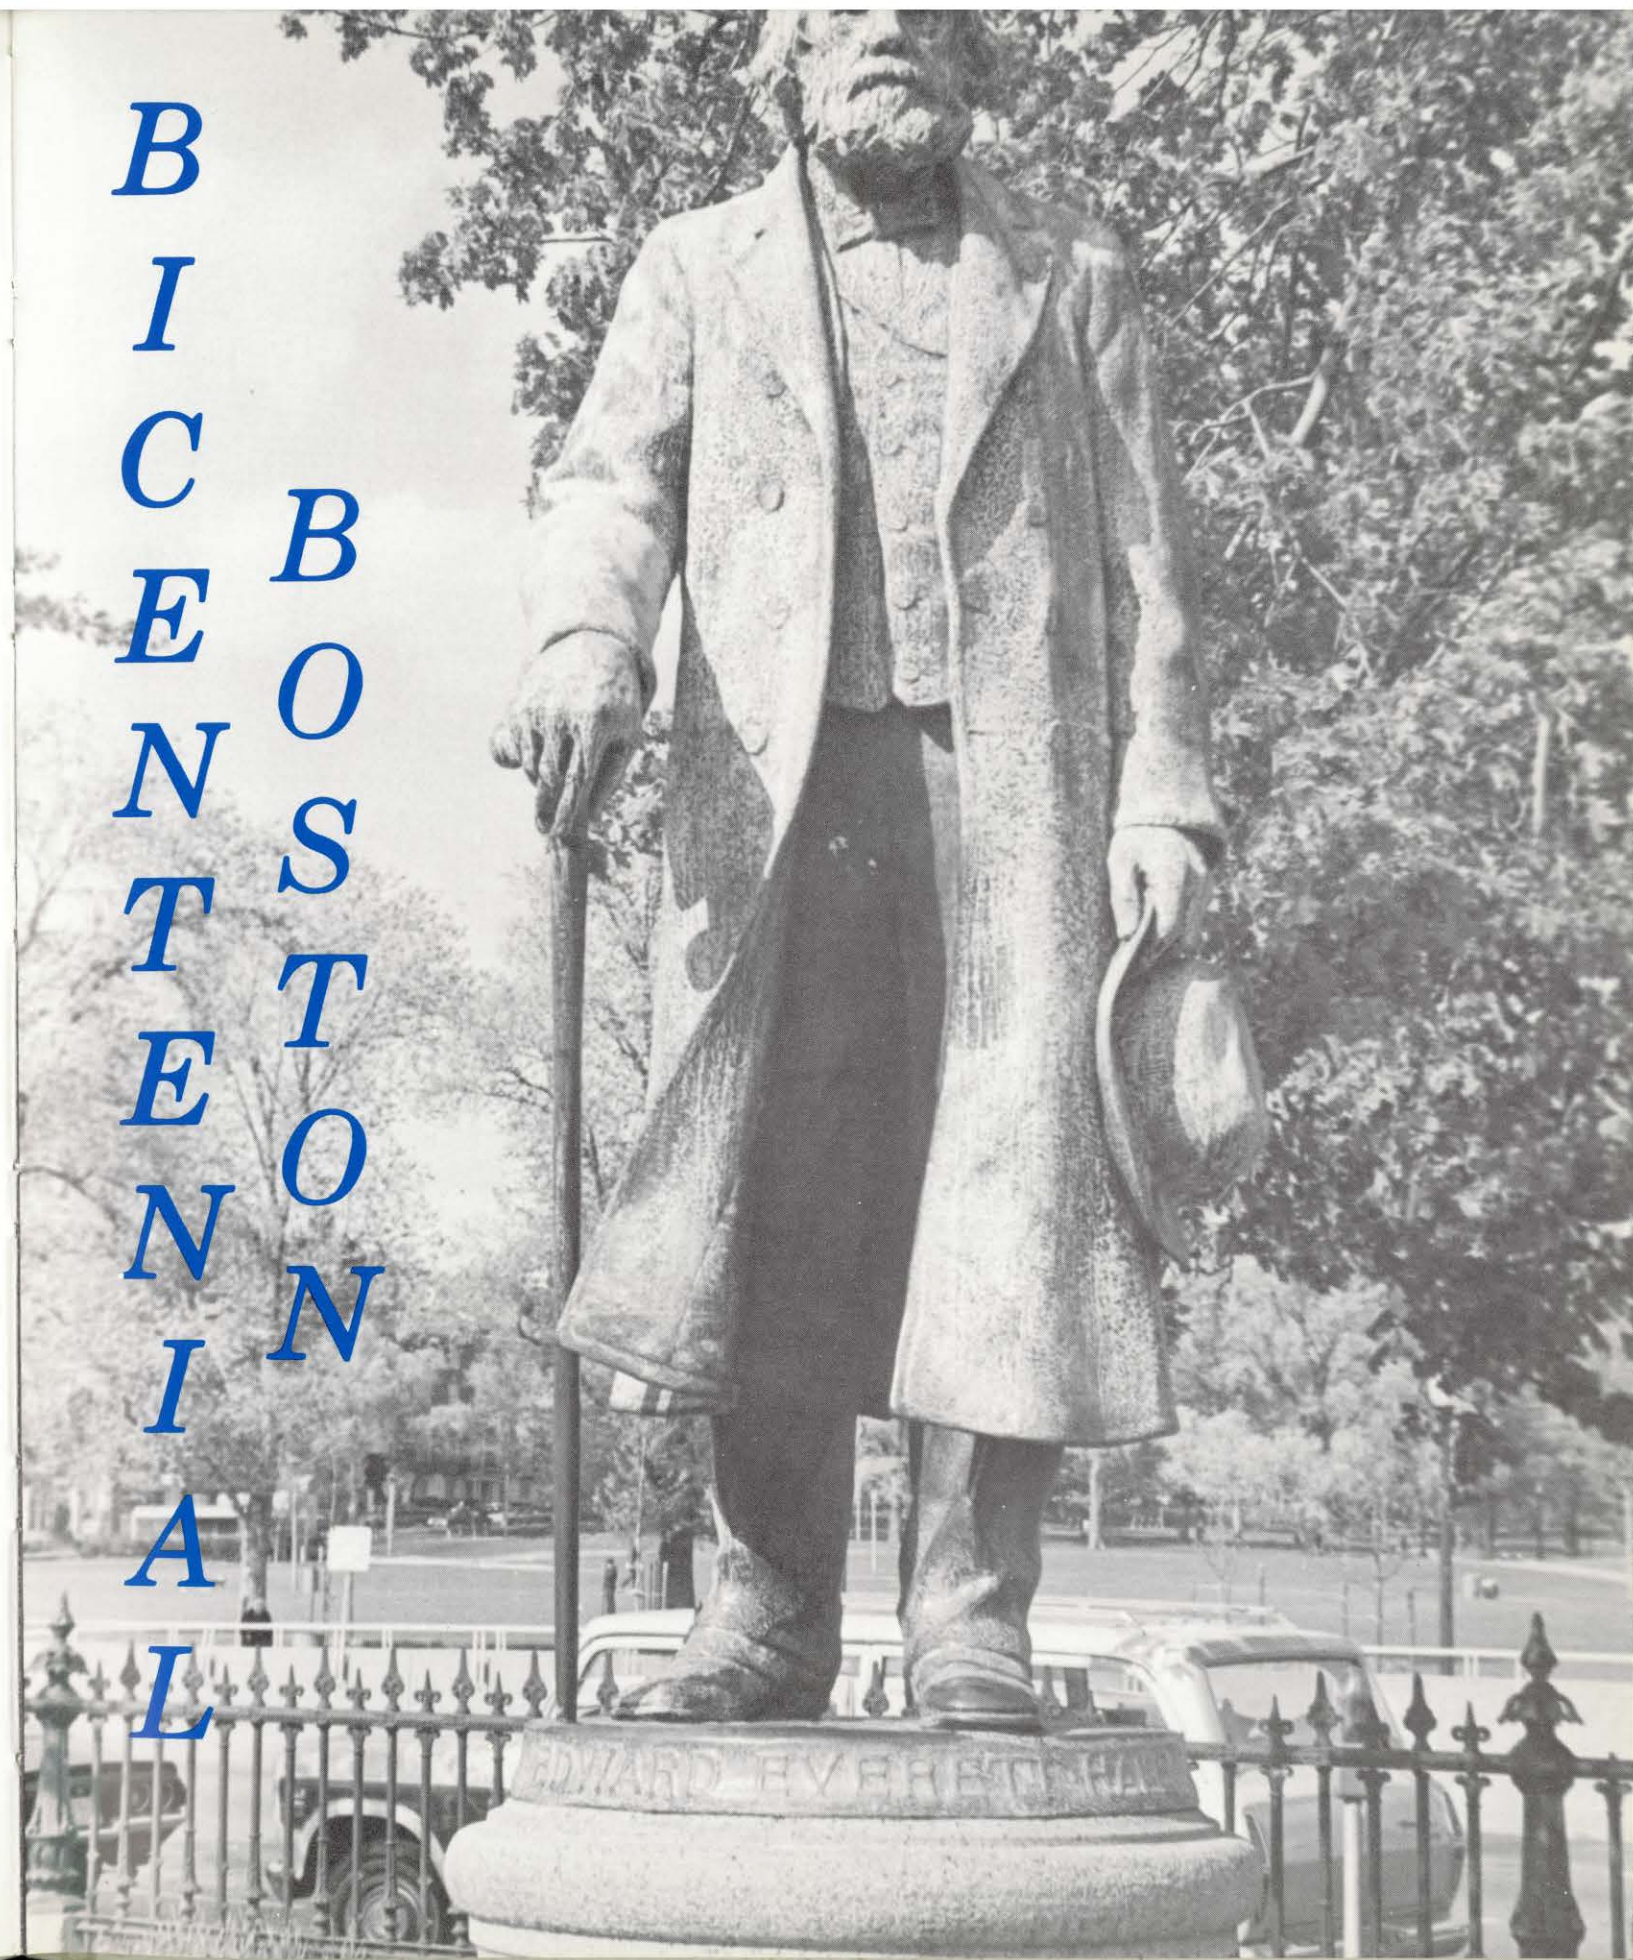

Carol Ann Sheridan

REFLECTIONS

OF 25 YEARS

In March, 1950 Milton Grahm took over a small secretarial school in Boston - CAMBRIDGE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS. It had an enrollment of nine students and a motto: Learn By Doing. Twenty-Five years later, the original nine students have gone their own ways but the motto remains; more viable today and the heart of the School's philosophy.

In 1950 four basic subjects were offered: Business English, Shorthand, Typing, and Bookkeeping. Each student proceeded at her own rate, enrolling on any Monday and completing on any Friday.

Shortly after Mr. Grahm assumed the Presidency, the School began offering courses in broadcasting on the same basis as the secretarial program. The School then became known as The Cambridge School of Business & Broadcasting.

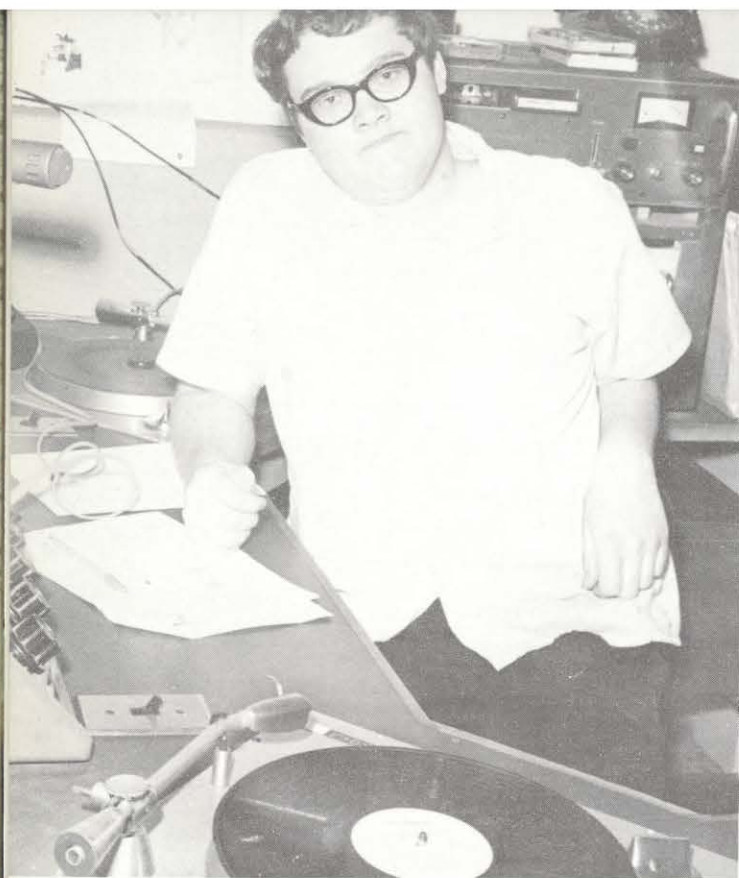

After several moves to accommodate its growing enrollment, the School finally moved into its present location in Kenmore Square, occupying at first just the Beacon Building.

In 1968 it received its charter as a junior college from the Commonwealth and changed its name to Grahm Junior College. In 1969, occupying its current buildings, the College began offering the Associate in Applied Science Degree.

Each year brought more students, more dedicated faculty and staff, and better facilities. Today, the College offers the Associate in Science and Associate in Arts in Communications, Business Administration, and Liberal Arts. Today, students are still Learning By Doing.

INVOCATION - Senior Luncheon May 1976
Presented by Pat Bashford

Help us -
To outgrow the past but not to extinguish it;
To be progressive but not raw,
Free but not mad, critical but not sterile,
expectant but not deluded;
To be scientific but not to live on formulas
that cut us off from life;
To hear amidst clamor the pure, deep tones
of the spirit;
To seek the wisdom that liberates and a
loyalty that consecrates;
To turn both prosperity and adversity into servants of character;
To master circumstances by the power of
principle,
And to conquer death by the splendor of
loving trust:
For this is to attain peace,
This is to invest each of our lives with magnificence.

Adapted from William L. Sullivan

LUNCHEON

THE PERFORMING ARTS

Dear God,

At this major turning point in our lives, help us to realize this may be an ending, but it is also a beginning.

For what has past, we are grateful. Especially for these last two years at Grahm, which in many ways have expanded our beings, broadened our perspectives and strengthened our will to do well.

For the future, bless us and those who helped us to this hour: our parents, our teachers, and our friends. Grant us the will, the courage and the stamina to always persue what's deep in our hearts and ever strive for better things.

Amen
